

Predict the behavior of a job candidate BEFORE you hire.

FirstView™

The FirstView Advantage

In 15 minutes a hiring manager can review objective, comparative information that predicts the behavior of a job candidate in any or all of 15 job categories. Then use behavioral interviewing questions selected by advanced psychometrics to probe only those areas that suggest a potential weakness for the individual in the job.

FirstView Can Be Used Effectively with No Training and No Assistance

The candidate's behavior is described within the context of the job requirements and processes. The hiring manager has no need for expert interpretation. FirstView makes it easy to use assessment technology to reduce hiring costs and improve performance.

Psychometric Accuracy/Completion Time

FirstView matches the accuracy of the finest 5th Generation instruments, yet requires only 15 minutes to complete. This is critical if you are using an assessment to screen large candidate groups for entry level positions that could include: retail sales persons, fast food workers, temporary staffing employees, and others.

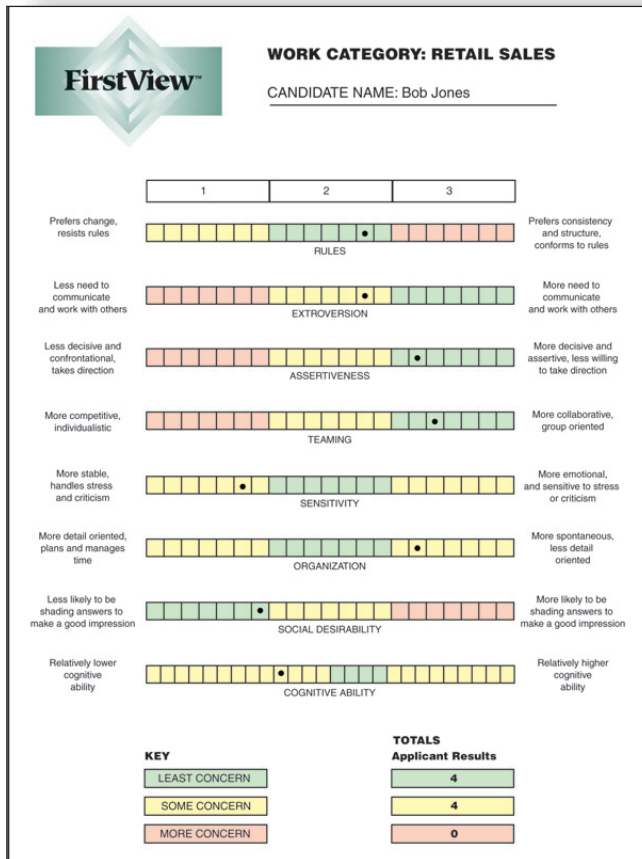

Take this assessment and see how accurate and useful the information you get would be in a screening situation. Call for a free FirstView assessment and get your results back instantly.
